

Short Chronological Autobiography

1961 Degree in Medicine and Surgery (University of Milan)
1964 Specialization (= Master) in Psychotechnics (Milan)
1965 Specialization (= Master) In Clinical Psychology (Milan)
1967 Specialization (= Master) in infant Neuropsychiatry (Pisa)
1968 Candidate of Italian Psychoanalytical Society
1971 Associate Professor in Psychology (University of Turin)
1973 Associate Member of Italian Psychoanalytical Society and International Psychoanalytical Association
1975 Full Professor in Psychology (Turin)
1980 Full Member of Italian Psychoanalytical Society and I.P.A.
1986 Full Professor in Clinical Psychology (Faculty of Medicine, University of Brescia)
1994 Training Analyst of the Italian Psychoanalytical Society

Main topics in his works:

Psychoanalysis, Psychotherapy and Clinical Psychology - Psychoneurophysiology of Sexuality and Clinical Sexuology - Perceptology - New Psychoanalytic Theories and other Mind Sciences: The "Theory of the Protomenta" - Psychoanalysis and Cognitive Science: A Psychoanalytic Cognitivism - Criticism of Freudian Metapsychology and new Metapsychologies - Prenatal and Perinatal Clinical Psychology - Psychoanalysis and Health Organisations - Health Workers Training - Attachment, Maternal Care and Transgenerational Issues - Construction of the Mind - Psychoanalysis and Psychosociology of Mass Media Iconic Language - Psychometrics and Mental Testing

Printed Works:

51 volumes and more than 300 other papers
For details see his website: www.imbasciati.it
Contact: info@imbasciati.it

Autobiographical Notes

The Author is Full Member and Training Analyst of Italian Psychoanalytical Society, and He was Full Professor of Clinical Psychology in the Faculty of Medicine in the University of Brescia.
He wrote many papers, and 51 volumes, in Experimental Psychology, Clinical Psychology and Psychoanalysis: on his website www.imbasciati.it you may see a detailed curriculum, the list of all his works and the topics he wrote about. Since 1978 most of his works relate to confront psychoanalysis with Experimental Psychology. He worked out a personal theory - The Protomenta Theory - whose last elaboration is described in his volume, "Constructing a Mind", Routledge, London